

New frontiers in the research landscape: opportunities and challenges for early career researchers

10:00	Arrival & Registration
10:40	Welcome & Introduction Professor John Iredale FRSE FMedSci, Pro Vice Chancellor (Health), University of Bristol Professor Paul Martin FMedSci, Professor of Cell Biology, University of Bristol
10:50	Inspiring science & career tracks Researchers will give short talks on their science and career perspectives. • Molecular biology - Professor Graham Lord FMedSci, Professor of Medicine, King's College London • Neuroimaging - Professor Guy Goodwin FMedSci, Senior Research Fellow in Psychiatry, University of Oxford • Neurobiology - Professor Maria Fitzgerald FMedSci, Professor of Developmental Neurobiology, University College London
12:00	Structure networking Structured networking session designed to facilitate quick introductions between attendees.
12:45	Lunch
13:30	Pitching Ideas workshop How can you make your presentations persuasive and engaging? How do you drive home a message; to funders, peers or senior colleagues? In this interactive workshop you will learn simple tools and approaches to deliver a compelling argument.
14:45	Funding & career opportunities for early career researchers • Dr Anne-Marie Coriat, Head of Research Careers at the Wellcome Trust • Professor Andrew Farmer, Chair of NIHR Health Technology Assessment Programme • Professor Jeremy Tavaré, MRC Training & Careers Group member
15:45	Coffee break
16:00	Keynote lecture Professor Shoumo Bhattacharya FMedSci, BHF Chair of Cardiovascular Medicine, University of Oxford
17:00	Drinks Reception