This question is intended to promote thorough consideration of the content of a publication or other research output, rather than the impact factor of the journal it is published in. The scientific content of a paper is much more important than publication metrics or the identity of the journal in which it was published. This is your opportunity to highlight the impact that your papers have made on your field of research.

The Academy is a supporter of the San Francisco Declaration of Research Assessment (DORA) and Panel members and peer reviewers are requested not to use journal-based metrics, such as Journal Impact Factors as a surrogate measure of the quality of individual research articles.

For each, please

- Give the reference in the format described above
- Explain why you have selected this article
- Highlight your role within the study
- Provide a statement describing the contribution of each author in the study following the CRediT Taxonomy of author contributions. All of the authors listed on the paper should be mentioned in this section at least once. NB. If over 20 authors, please just list the 20 most significant contributions (including your own).

Selected publication 2:

Selected publication 3:

Other research outputs

Please detail any other research outputs (e.g. datasets, software, influence on policy and practice, articles in bioRxiv or equivalent) you have produced, which you think the Panel and/or peer reviewers should be aware of. Please include hyperlinks where possible.

If your proposal features the use of human tissues or subjects, on this page you will need to confirm that the study has been approved and enclose details of the approval.

Research involving human participants is governed by principles outlined in the Declaration of Helsinki, the Nuremberg Code, and the Council for International Organizations of Medical Sciences (CIOMS), all of which set out requirements with regard to the rights and safety of research participants and standards for research design and conduct.

The Academy requires researchers to have the relevant regulatory and ethical approvals in place before the relevant research begins, although you may apply for funding before this. In the event of an award being made, commencement of any research involving human participants will be subject to these approvals being in place and sent to the Academy.
